In The Beginning God Created Hatred

In the beginning God created everything by love. In the beginning God rejected Himself to experience that love. When God rejected Himself a new emotion was born. This emotion is called hatred. For God so loved the world that He allowed Himself to experience hatred.

Healing The Christian Wound

The Christian Wound it is a vibration that 89% of us hold which means that learning about it is not only important for Christians, but for us all.

Put simply, the Christian Wound is the vibration which manifests into a belief that "I am wrong and there is something wrong with the world". People with a lot of money, wealth or fame tend to not hold this vibration very strongly. This vibration is most common amongst the impoverished, the downtrodden and the ill fated.

Whilst this vibration was not caused by Christianity per se, it has it's origins in Christianity because when the vibration first arrived on planet Earth it manifested as the invention of Christianity – officially around 323 AD – that is, 323 years after the prophet Yeshua died.

Who Was Prophet Yeshua?

Yeshua is the Aramaic name for the person we in English call Jesus. Jesus Christ as a concept represents both a historical myth and a historical falsehood. There is no power in the word Jesus. Words only have power according to the meaning we as God give to them. There is no more power in the word Jesus than there is in the very offensive word 'nigger'.

Yeshua was a devout Prophet who dedicated his life to the service of truth and the practice of Love. It is said that during Yeshua's life he had no more than 100 or so followers. About a century after the death of Yeshua, his life was hijacked by the powerful Roman State and Christianity was born out of a mixture of Paganism, Hellenism and Satanism, for example drinking blood, eating eggs and blood sacrifices were ideas all birthed out of Pagan and Satanic practices.

The fallacy of Jesus is a manifestation of our collective propensity for denial and self deception. Escaping the fallacy is incredibly difficult and involves deep soul searching. This Guide will help with the process.

The Invention of Christianity

The Prophet Yeshua did not invent Christianity and neither did he ever preach or advocate the advent of a new religion. That Christianity was born over a century after his death and used for widespread bloodshed and acts of mass and systemic violence, slavery and invasion, has nothing to do with the life of Yeshua – a humble man born out of wedlock who fell in love with and married a former prostitute – such was his unconditional nature.

One of The Devil's most powerful and effective tools on Earth henceforth has for a long time been Christianity and the Bible. Later we will learn what we mean by The Devil in this context.

Christianity and the Vibration of Hatred

The religion of Christianity was born from a vibration of self hatred. Self hatred is the vibration which instigates a belief that there is something inherently wrong with the individual (and therefore with the world).

Hence it makes sense that the religion of Christianity is a mixture of Hellenism, Paganism and Satanism. The similar appearance of well known hate groups like the Ku Klux Klan and the Lodge can easily be recognised as similar to the stately appearance of the Pope and other established Christian Authorities.

The religion of Christianity has been a vibrational match to hatred on a global and systemic level for centuries for the reason described above. Henceforth the religion of Christianity is a magnet for any persons suffering with deeply repressed feelings of self hatred and self disgust most likely to have occurred during primal stages of infancy.

What Is The Christian Wound?

Let us now learn more about the concept of The Christian Wound and learn how we may heal it so that we can move towards creating a world of greater equality, love and freedom for all humankind.

God Deluded

The Christian Wound tells us that there is something wrong with us and therefore God had to send his son to redeem us. The Christian Wound means that we are literally born into an unconscious state of victimisation which we absorb from the energetic cultural environment of Earth when we get here. Now, of course, we as God are born perfect. We then undergo socialisation and experience various complex forms of childhood experiences which sort of taints our godliness – we in effect become God Deluded.

Who Is God Deluded?

God Deluded is who we have traditionally called the Devil and we all have the capacity to vibrate as God Deluded.

Anything that embodies Self Love is God, anything that embodies Self Hatred is God Deluded.

The Wrong God

Because The Christian Wound sees God and man as separate, the 89% of us who hold this vibration are not able to see that we – and indeed everything in creation – are God. Notice that The Christian Wound not only effects Christians – most people, especially poor people – hold this vibration – it is the vibration which says:

- 1) Some things are wrong...
- 2) (..and therefore) I am in some way wrong...
- 3) (..and therefore) other people are wrong...
- 4) (..and therefore) the world is wrong.

Even though I can make you understand that there is no such thing as wrong using words alone, the beauty and perfection of freewill and free choice means that you will realise this truth at your own time – Divine time as they say. I could tell you that if the world is wrong then "are you saying that God made a mistake?" I could ask you, "are you saying that God made the world wrong?" I could ask you, "are you saying that God did a lousy job?" Etc. You cannot believe that the world is wrong and at the same time think God is perfect. It makes no logical sense. This page and indeed this entire website is not about proving anything – for truth and love do not have to be proven.

God and 'The Devil' Are Not Separate

When God decides that He wants to experience Himself – as in become His creation – the first thing God does is reject Himself. When God rejects Himself He turns Himself into God Deluded. God Deluded is an embodiment of self hatred whilst God is an embodiment of self love. Hence we see that there is no separation between God and The Devil.

There is only One, One God, and that God is contained within Everything and Every I.

Ignoring, Abolishment and Abandonment

Ignoring, abolishing and abandoning are common acts for God Deluded. In the Bible and later in the Quran, God behaves like God Deluded. The God of the Bible and indeed the God of the Quran often ignores, abolishes or abandons to express disapproval.

God is concentrated as God Deluded in the Bible and Quran because this was the energetic climate of planet Earth at that time – we existed – and indeed have up until now – as God Deluded. The God of any periodic time such as that which is captured in historical writing is none other than the collective spirit-mind of the Planet projected on to a symbolic totem which we call God.

Whilst we are in the state of falsehood, we are not able to see reality objectively and so we wholeheartedly believe that our fears are real. We are in fact living in falsehood, what that means is that we are drawn towards our fears, such that the law of attraction appears to be attracting our fears rather than our conscious desires.

For as long as we exist in our current collective state of falsehood, we are not able to see reality objectively. In the falsehood state we are quite literally deluded. We are God Deluded. For example, we might believe that humans can do things which are against the laws and probability rules assigned for this planet. Also, in this state of delusion, we wholeheartedly believe that we do not want our fears. In reality we always get what we want, including our fears. We want our fears and that's why we get them. Hence, in the falsehood state, we are living in darkness, or living in our shadow as it has been said.

What is Falsehood?

The world is currently governed by falsehood. When you decide that you wish to embark on a life dedicated to truth, this experience might be quite painful. For example, this can happen when you decide that you want to live a truly happy life which is not based on the false expectations of "others".

You may find that life actually seems worse when you decide to embrace truth but this is only the case because we have built an entire civilization based upon falsehood. For example, in order to be happy you may need to quit your job, but quitting your job is not an easy decision. It is incredibly difficult to make choices based upon truth when we live in a world founded upon falsehood.

When we go to that workplace that we hate, when we stay in that relationship and pretend we are happy, these are manifestations of our second by second life of perpetually lying to ourselves about how we feel. We eat breakfast because we should, even though we may not even feel hungry. We have sex in positions we do not really feel like, just because we should. We want to please "the other" more than we want to be true to how we feel. We lie to ourselves. Lying to ourselves in this world is normal. Falsehood is normal.

Falsehood is not a bad thing however, and it is not wrong to exist as falsehood, it just comes with a particular vibration that may not feel good to you depending on where you are now.

If something feels bad, it doesn't mean that it is bad. Also, if something feels bad then it doesn't mean that it is wrong. For example, when we grieve we feel bad. But it is not bad nor wrong to grieve.

When we obsessively think of life in terms of what's good and what's bad, or what's wrong and what's right, then we live a life from a vibration of deeply repressed shame.

We Blame The World

Know that you are love. You are good. You are perfect. Also remember that there really is no you or me. There is only One. We are all connected and we have built a world based upon falsehood so that we may experience soon a world based upon truth.

We look at the systems that we have created, our governments, our leaders. We lament because we think they're all a load of shit, all they do is lie.

We blame them.

We blame the government, we blame the NHS, we blame the systems that we have created and say that these things are the root of all evil, they are the cause of all our problems.

In truth, the systems we have created are projections of ourselves. In our day to day lives we live in falsehood. Most of us. Most of us lie to ourselves every second of the day – about how we feel, about why we feel the way we feel, we indeed therefore lie about who we are.

We Want To Become God True

When we do not know how we feel then we do not know who we are. A Planet where we exist as not knowing who we are feels lonely and depressing. The planet as God False is lonely and depressing.

We are now ready for change. We want to become God True. There is no separation. The systems we have created just reflect who we are in our individual god self versions. We are falsehood at the moment. At the moment we are falsehood.

The time for a shift is now.

Who is God True?

God True of Love does not ignore but He may stay silent. God True of Love does not abandon but He may let go and God True of Love does not abolish but he may leave behind. God True of Love always embraces all unconditionally. He prefers Love over Hate but God True of Love accepts that Hate is a necessary stage in His development towards becoming True.

The Vibration of Guilt

Let us now take some time to think about the role of the vibration of guilt when considering the Christian Wound.

We have already learnt that the Christian Wounded relationship with God is one of separation, this means that the Christian Wound sees that there are people, there is God and then there's Jesus, or there are people and there's Jesus who is God – however you put it, there is a clear separation between man and God.

What is different about Christianity compared to other religions, is the role of the vibration of guilt. Let's continue.

The Guilty Separation Between Man and God

The Christian Wounded relationship with God is one based upon Guilt: There's God, Jesus and us and God so loved the world that he sent his only son. We see that as we say this statement we immediately slip into the vibration of guilt. Let's think about it – God so loved the world (poor him) that he sent (for unworthy us) his only son (oh my).

I only use sarcasm here as a way to help unlock the very subconscious assumptions and vibrations that are at work here. The feeling sentiment is that oh so righteous God sent His son to unworthy people and we are therefore somehow indebted to God. We owe God something – we owe God worship – and even more, we owe God belief in his son as a way to not only say thank you, but as a way to let god know that we believe in him. Guys, I hope you can feel how dysfunctional this relationship is.

The Christian Separation Between Man and God

Even though we are all pretty much subject to this Wound we're now as a Planet ready to heal it. Let's continue.

In the Christian Wound we are in a perpetual and vicious cycle of feeling like we owe God something – what we feel is guilty and, what's more, we believe that God loves us not only when but also because we feel guilty.

I'll repeat that.

The Christian Wound tells us that God loves us not only when, but also because we feel guilty. Guilt here is not only welcomed, but it is celebrated. I gave you my son – now love me for it.

A Dysfunctional Kind of Love

The Christian Wounds says that God is only able to offer forgiveness to us (notice the separation) because he sent his son to die for us. If God did not send his son to die then He would in effect be UNABLE TO FORGIVE. I repeat, God Almighty IS NOT ABLE TO OFFER FORGIVENESS BY HIS OWN ACCORD. GOD ONLY FORGIVES US BECAUSE HE FEELS GUILTY.

You must know that I love as I type this, but seriously this is some real dysfunctional stuff here.

Do we also see how this guilt-based relationship permeates into our homes
as almost normal?

What does it mean to be judgemental?

Judgemental is making the assumption, insinuation or suggestion that where someone is, is wrong. The more fixed we are in the notion of wrong or right the more judgemental we look.

CONDEMNED

A Wrong Or Right Kind of World

To think of a world not founded upon wrong and right seems almost stupid – that's how deeply entrenched we are as a human species in a victim consciousness which says that every experience can only be perceived through two distinct categories: wrong or right. The real truth is that any experience can be perceived through multiple, in fact an infinite number of perspectives. Here's the crucial point:

The more we vibrate as God the greater number of perspectives we are able to accept as true, the more we vibrate as God Deluded the fewer number of perspectives we are able to consider as true.

In fact, God Deluded only ever sees one perspective as valid and true – that's His one. God Deluded says it's my way or the high way. Damning and shaming are normal when we vibrate as God Deluded.

CONDEMNED

Imagining A World Without Wrong Or Right

Let's take the case of the statement that, "a man who violently rapes children is wrong". What do we mean here? We mean that this man is bad, shameful, unworthy, separate from us, deserving of nothing, worthless. When we make this statement we have to grossly grossly simplify this man's life experience. We bring his whole life down to his actions of rape. Let's say that we zoom our perspective out just a little bit. We learn that this man at the age of 8 witnessed his mother being violently raped by his father. How do we feel now? We still feel that he is wrong, we feel that there is absolutely no excuse for his behaviour – but maybe we don't feel that he is unworthy or deserving of nothing, maybe now we feel he is wrong and should be locked up but he deserves a bit of help. Let's zoom our perspective out even further, we learn that 69 demonic entities are controlling this man's sexual urges. We learn that this man considered cutting off his penis to stop his actions. We learn that he has no idea that his body is plagued with demonic entities. How do we feel now? We feel, perhaps, that his actions are still wrong but maybe we feel that he is not bad or shameful or worthless and perhaps we do not feel that this man is separate from us, we may even feel empathy. Now, all we've done here is taken the same experience and zoomed out into three different perspectives – as we did this our vibration pertaining to the notion of wrong shifted. Just like that.

The Role of Worthiness

When we are in fear we lose the ability to see ourselves objectively which is what makes accepting all this quite tricky. I can be honest with you and tell you that I know that I still in some way vibrate with the Christian Wound. How do I know that? Well because until like 5 minutes ago, it was really important for me to keep going on about how much metaphysical pain I endured, then in the course of writing this I realised that I was doing that because I wanted people to express their love for me by feeling sorry for my pain. This is classic victim consciousness. It's classic Christian Wound because it says that the premise for a loving relationship should be based upon guilt.

The fact remains that for as long as we perceive worth as something that is real then we will always have a bit of the Christian Wound - that is, for as long as we believe that there are some people not deserving of God's love and who instead deserve to get sent to some hell – then we are stuck in a consciousness which sees wrong as a governing principle.

The Book Of Light

During the summer of 2017 Chaun endured a series of intense supernatural experiences. Chaun also received a Book Of Light hereby called The Nu Vibe Holy Book of Divine Truth. This Book, The Nu Vibe, has the Transformational Power to shift the vibration of self hatred into the vibration of self acceptance.

Along with the resounding and pervasive Divine Light which guides and resides within Chaun, The Book of Light has been sent to Planet Earth as both a tool and as a gift.

What is The Nu Vibe?

The role of the early Bible is difficult to decipher because it has largely been changed, re-translated and mis-translated several times. Vibrationally however it's role was to elevate the planet from the vibration of stagnation to the vibration of forthcoming.

The energetic role of the Quran was to elevate the vibration of the planet from depression to anger. Since the energetic climate of the planet was still quite low when the Prophet delivered the Quran for us, the tone appears to be one of fear. This tone of fear is what was required to galvanise a planet that was in the depths of self-loathing and melancholy.

The role of the Nu Vibe is to transform the planetary vibration of self hatred into self acceptance. Hence, The Nu Vibe Holy Book signifies the end of a long era on planet Earth of perceiving separation between man and God as true.

The Nu Vibe Holy Book of Divine Truth

The New Holy Book to Awaken the Christian Peoples

The Nu Vibe Holy Book of Divine Truth & Universal Wisdom was sent via the Holy Angel Jibreel to Chaun Conscious during the summer of 2017. The Nu Vibe is the 'Book of Light' foretold to us by every civilisation previously known. The Nu Vibe Holy Book of Divine Truth has been sent to elevate the modern day Christian from old, suppressed and stubborn vibrations of self hatred.

Undoubtedly The Nu Vibe has the Transformational Power and Authority to execute such elevation, so it has been written.

Final Message from Chaun

It is a great honour and pleasure to be chosen as the person to carry this monumental pool of wisdom and knowledge. Now that you have explored the concept of The Christian Wound my recommendation for you would be to explore Guide #3, Healing Our Racism. Once you feel comfortable with these new concepts and have fully integrated them into your Universe you are ready to explore The Nu Vibe Holy Book of Divine Truth. I can testify that the information in this Holy Book has extraordinary Transformational capability and is Majestic in Essence. I trust that you will be both touched and transformed by its Divine Power.

Greetings and Blessings.
