In The Beginning God Created Hatred

In the beginning God created everything by love. In the beginning God rejected Himself to experience that love. When God rejected Himself a new emotion was born. This emotion is called hatred. For God so loved the world that He allowed Himself to experience hatred.

Guide #4

We all seek approval. Unfortunately. We assume here that you have read Guide #1: Self-Hatred The Silent Devil, Guide #2: Healing The Christian and Guide #3: Racism.

This guide sheds light on what God wants. Speaking directly as I Am, Chaun Conscious, the Light of the World. Why do you want to know what God wants? Is it not the most delightful thing to know what God really wants? Perhaps we think we already know. He wants the Bible. He wants us to pray. He wants us to pilgrimage.

It's funny that religiously, "God's wants" are all about "us". This is a Guide is for the narcissist. The narcissist is the God Who Wants Us. The God "who wants us" is a classic narcissist. He, it's always He, sits in the invisible unknown wanting us. He seems lonely and sad. Maybe it's she who is lonely.

The invisible God who sits in the invisible unknown wanting us is She. The God that is She. She wants. For when God speaks of what it may want then indeed I am no longer in want. For how can I want lest I be wanted.

A Life Without Difficult

It goes without saying that life is difficult. What is life? It's the point leading towards death. Where it becomes a problem is when death is realised as unreal. For as long as my greatest fear is unrealised is for as long as life appears difficult.

Life as difficult versus life as not difficult.

Life is never easy, it is either difficult or not difficult. When life is not difficult I find it much easier to solve problems. I do not need to raise my voice, or overly exert my dominance in order to execute a solution.

Where I implement intimidation, it is calculated and intelligent. It is unintelligent to solve simple problems using an excessive amount of force, emotion and / or sexual energy. When I come to a solution through sexual harassment I necessarily experience my day-to-day life as something difficult.

Life becomes the enemy of man. It's easy to blame or even hate God. God made life after all. How lousy is this life God has made? Pretty lousy for most of us, and yet we claim to respect Him. Do we respect God enough to accept a poxy life? Getting angry with God from this position is healthy, normal and right.

To Know God

It's difficult to see that the atheist is actually angry with God. The atheist from this vantage has a closer relationship with god than a man who fails to claim his life as his own. I fail to claim life as my own instead I fear it. When I fear life I cannot claim it at the same time. It is not my life. My life is that which I fear. It's not my life. It's God's life. He gave me this life and it is difficult. I am angry with God for giving me this life. God hears this. God hears this stronger than the man who doesn't claims life as His own, yet claims to know God.

How do we know God? We know ourselves in the first instance. When I know myself I don't know life. I can't tell you what I might become when I don't know my life. I already realise through several past lives that my life never becomes what I have formerly expected. Life is unprecedented. I can't tell you that life is anything more than death. I can only speak of can't where life is hard. I need. When life is hard I need. I need life.

A Life Without Need

What is life without need? Want. Life without need is want. My anger is controlled. My decisions are measured. I didn't want that but I got it epistemologically makes no sense. The mind loses comprehension of "didn't", or "did not". The sentiment "I did not", necessarily reminds us of some regret. Something I did not do at some time - but the only time is now. Indeed therefore when we exist as a problem I live in a constant state of feeling that I am not doing enough. In any given moment what "I do" is not enough.

God doesn't "do". Our higher selves "do nothing". Nothing becomes a creative canvas. The old say the young don't do much. The young say the old do everything. Both perspectives are right. In the end do is cancelled out. There is no do. It is all done. Everything is done. Unless I am able to occupy a mental space which sees everything as done then life continues to seem difficult. Life is forever, in this view, an actual enemy.

To Know Death

When it is done I lose perspective on time. Time is a friend when death is real. Currently our perspective says that death is unreal. I know death. I know I might die. But I do not know that I die. The appeal of death is that I might die. I don't "know death". Death is unreal. It might happen. But somewhere I believe it might not happen.

When death is real then nothing happens. Happens is scared. What happened? I ask my wife, what happened when I see that she's scared. Intrinsically I recognise a state which interprets a scenario in which death might happen. Death might happen when "something" "happens". Death is done. When we have done death it does not happen.

A Life Without Time

Time is a b*tch. A bastard. A whore. I am slave to time. How might life respond without time? What is life without time? Death. Death is real. Without time we regroup to what is real. We remember time. We remember a time when. When we need that time we go there. We go back.

Let's go back to a time when. This is death. Until I realise that there is no time when. There is now and then there is now and then there is now. All now's know. When I know. I now. Now I know. What am I when I didn't know? I am regret. When I regret I am do. God does nothing. Our higher selves do nothing. When nothing is done then there is no time. No time like now. Time stops.

The world, space, the stars and the planets are no longer discovered. They are understood. The world doesn't want discovery. The world wants understanding. Space doesn't need exploration. Space needs realisation. Space is realised. There is no time. There is no round. There is only a perspective of curvature which sees round as round. Time goes round as long as it does. Time does nothing.

To be God is to exist as time. Time does nothing. To exist as God is to do nothing. Nothing happens. It is done.

To Realise

To realise is to "wow". "What is "wow". Wow is wow. How do we explain "wow". Astoundment. Astoundment is realising that I was. I was depressed before I quit my job. Wow, I had no realisation and now realisation happens. Wow. God as man is that which causes realisation. This has before been called love. Love was realisation. But after realisation there still exists. Whatever exists is God. After love there is God. God is a greater realisation. I realised then. Now I realise then. Wow.

A Life Without Pain

Don't want. Don't want it. Don't want it to happen. I don't want life to happen and yet life happens. Why life have you happened? I hate it. I don't want life. Yet life happens. How do I undo life so life doesn't happen? Who knows? I dream of after life. I beg that after life it stops. What stops? Life. After life I want life to stop. What is life at stop? It's life.

Pain says I don't want. When I don't want I want "don't want". This is not esoteric nonsense. When I say this I actually mean this is esoteric nonsense. In this moment I reject myself. I reject myself and say this is esoteric nonsense and the reader knows this. You the reader can see something that I can't see. I convince you in this moment that what you see is not what is. Your view is wrong. Your view that it's esoteric nonsense is wrong. You did not see that in the moment. Life is like that. What I don't want I am wanting somewhere else.

What happens when I become "don't want"? Then I stop "don't want". I stop life. Pain stops. There is no pain when I become "don't want". There is no offensiveness. There is no strain. There is no limitation. I no longer need death. I live. Forever.

To Not Struggle Forever

Forever is not. Take the colour red. How red is red? Is red red? It has no depth and red has no sound. What sound is red? That is a much more interesting question. Forever is not "how". Forever is "what". How are you? I'm well. What are you? I'm well. Which is better? To how well or to what well? I'd rather be a well than how well. How well are you? It's subjective. Are you a well? Yes I am a well. What are you? You are well. Forever has no is. Forever is not. Without forever is to struggle. When I perceive forever as real I stop the struggle. Time is a struggle without forever. I blame time without forever. Every "a" can be blamed. I blamed an idiot. Until an idiot became well. Now an idiot blames me.

A Life Without Blame

What does the dictionary say about blame? Who "did it"? We are in a complex sexual relationship with the past. Our relatives, our friendships, our interests are all involved in a complex sexual exchange which connects us to the past and to forever.

For many of us the idea of forever is as worse as dooms day. I've been there. Seemingly there is not here. The worst thing I could be shown is forever. The idea that I might be here, supposedly on some planet called Earth, for what has been known as forever, is fatalistically hell. I'd rather die. That's the problem. That's the blame.

Blame tells us that we will never meet. We will never see eye to eye. The power in blame is fear. When I blame you you become terrified. The real power is in fact my ability to terrify you with blame. But how do you blame the one who has no guilt? Who do I become when I have no shame? Without shame I become blameless. I lose control.

This is the aspiration for all men. To exist without shame. To become blameless is to enter into a sexual relationship with time. When I start having sex with time every moment is worth everything.

What God Wants

There is no want. Want happens. I do not want. I become "do not want", or "don't want". When I don't want her, she knows. She knows. Does she feel something? I reckon she just knows. Without "don't want" she does not know. In fact, she does not know herself without "don't know".

Her here is subject. The subject of Eye. That which I perceive. That which I view as mine. Eye change the subject. The view in my eye transforms the subject into her. When it receives she accepts blame. When she accepts the blame she projects her want to him. He is all she wants when she wants herself. This is how she is known. She is known as that which wants Him. He is her Lord. Her Lord God.

You believe.

Without you there is no belief.

There is unknown.

The Book Of Light

During the summer of 2017 Chaun endured a series of intense supernatural experiences. Chaun also received a Book Of Light hereby called The Nu Vibe Holy Book of Divine Truth. This Book, The Nu Vibe, has the Transformational Power to shift the vibration of self hatred into the vibration of self acceptance.

Along with the resounding and pervasive Divine Light which guides and resides within Chaun, The Book of Light has been sent to Planet Earth as both a tool and as a gift.

What is The Nu Vibe?

The role of the early Bible is difficult to decipher because it has largely been changed, re-translated and mis-translated several times. Vibrationally however it's role was to elevate the planet from the vibration of stagnation to the vibration of forthcoming.

The energetic role of the Quran was to elevate the vibration of the planet from depression to anger. Since the energetic climate of the planet was still quite low when the Prophet delivered the Quran for us, the tone appears to be one of fear. This tone of fear is what was required to galvanise a planet that was in the depths of self-loathing and melancholy.

The role of the Nu Vibe is to transform the planetary vibration of self hatred into self acceptance. Hence, The Nu Vibe Holy Book signifies the end of a long era on planet Earth of perceiving separation between man and God as true.

The Nu Vibe Holy Book of Divine Truth

The New Holy Book to Awaken the Christian Peoples

The Nu Vibe Holy Book of Divine Truth & Universal Wisdom was sent via the Holy Angel Jibreel to Chaun Conscious during the summer of 2017. The Nu Vibe is the 'Book of Light' foretold to us by every civilisation previously known. The Nu Vibe Holy Book of Divine Truth has been sent to elevate the modern day Christian from old, suppressed and stubborn vibrations of self hatred.

Undoubtedly The Nu Vibe has the Transformational Power and Authority to execute such elevation, so it has been written.
